As this is a photography course we will be taking photographs of each other and sharing them. Some of the images might be used to promote the work of the students in the course. Therefore we need permission to photograph and film your child in order for them to participate. By signing this form you will be giving us permission to photograph and film your child in any Click Happy activity now and going forward and give us the right to use the images to promote the work of the youth and Click Happy as a program in any medium in perpetuity.

Each year we run an online creative mentorship program that is free for students who have attended a Visual Poetry Jam. In the workshop, they will learn to improve their photography game and also make new friends with youth from all over NZ. The students in the program have even started their own by youth for youth magazine which your child can become involved with. Pro photographers are available to ask questions and help them learn to improve their innovation skills as well as their photography. It even has an award-winning creative wellbeing workshop included in the program. By signing here you are giving us permission for your child to attend the Visual Poetry Jam at their school and for us to email you information about the free online program that happens after the workshop to continue the innovation and visual storytelling skill development.
